Monnett Cemetery has been known as Bald Knob Burial Place on the land that is known as PIKE HOLE PRAIRIE, on the farm of the orignial settler, Abraham Monnett.

The above contains the name of the inscriptions on the tombstones as they were read in 1904, by John Saylor, son of MICHAH and ELIZABETH (MONNET) SAYLOR. Elizabeth was the daughter of ABRAHAM and ANN (HILLARY) MONNET. These same inscriptions were copied again on November 10, 1991 by Lynn Dunkle, Charles D. Weaver and Darlene F. Weaver. The inscriptions in some cases were obliterated by time and exposure, and several graves were unmarked. There are 10 to 12 stones other than listed which are not legible.

There are 10 to 12 other stones which are not legible
The remains of ABRAHAM MONNET, ANN MONNET, WILLIAM MONNET, JOHN MONNET and two infants were re-interred by John Warren under the direction of John Saylor on a half-lot, in Prairie View Cemetery near Whisler.

LEGEND

Name: The name on the stone, if given, otherwise, the name listed in the burial records.

Born: Date given on the stone or burial record.

Died: Date given on the stone or burial records. An entry as "no date" indicates that an engraved stone is in place but no record of a death or burial, and no death date appears on the stone.

Section: The location of the grave indicated by this number. The cemetery is divided by cross roadways separating the cemetery into 5 different sections. This has been used as the numbering system for sections. Section #1 starts at the very front of the cemetery and progresses #2, #3, #4, and ending with #5 at the very back of the cemetery.

Code: A code number is assigned each name based on any of, or any combination of the following:

a) Buried on the same lot according to burial records

b) Physical inventory indicates they are in close proximity with connecting names.

c) Physical inventory indicates they are in the same location.

Note: All listed identical codes may or may not be confirmed as to a family connection.

Remarks: Information on stone or burial records. Codes as follows:

p/o	parents of
s/o	son of
y	year(s) when with a number

Military: Information listed on s tone and/or burial records. States may be abbreviated, i.e. Ohio = OH

Note: This is not a large cemetery and presently continues to be accepting burials. Even so it has less than 1,000 buried there at present. Finding a burial knowing the section number and the name should not prove to be too difficult.

Other Saltcreek Township, Pickaway County, Ohio Cemeteries:

REICHELDERFER CEMETERY

Located 0.8 mile South of State Route 159
and 0.5 mile West of Tarlton-Adelphi Road (C-64)

This cemetery has been reported to the Society, however, several searches of the area has revealed no stones or any indication of any cemetery having been there. No names of burials were ever provided through these reports. The area has been farmed for a number of years.

MORRIS FARM CEMETERY

Located near Leistville in a farm field East of State Route 56 and West of Shoemaker Road (C-62)

This cemetery has never been found and no indication of it exists. Searches for stones or other indications have been made in the farm area and along the nearby creek. This, also, was reported to the Society as having been a "large" family cemetery. The area is currently being farmed.

STUMPF

STUMPF or JERUSALEM CEMETERY

This burying ground is about five miles south of Tarlton, and is located in the northeast corner of Section 26. It is a short distance north of the brick church, now falling into decay, that can be seen in a grove of trees just north of State Route # 56 about two miles northwest of Laurelville. A congregation was organized here early by two pastors. Rev. George Wise of Lancaster, Ohio, German Reformed, and Rev. Jacob Leist, Lutheran. The name Jerusalem was given to the church and cemetery by some of the early families who had been connected with the Jerusalem Lutheran and Reformed Church of Albany Township, Berks County, Pennsylvania, before coming to Ohio. (See National Genealogical Society Quarterly , XXIII, 1951, et seq.). One of these families was that of Conrad Stumpf, who purchased land in this neighborhood and was generous in financial help of the church. In time the church and graveyard came to be called the "Stumpf Church" and "Stumpf Cemetery".

At least four soldiers of the American Revolution are buried here, as are also their wives: John Judy and his wife Abaliza, Jacob Lutz and his wife Elizabeth, Johnnas Reichelderfer and his wife Elizabeth, and Conrad Stumpf and his wife Julian. Johan Jacob Faust may very probably have served in the Revolutionary War, as well as some of his sons. One of his eight sons was Jacob Foust, soldier of the American Revolution, buried in Westfield Township, Morrow County, Ohio. The inscription on the stone of Johan Jacob Foust tells of the great number of his descendants at the time of his death - 253 - and leaves no space for any record of his other accomplishments.

This old cemetery has been in use a century and a half. The first burial was that of Jane Deffabaugh (Defenbaugh) in August, 1804, a young woman in her 22nd year, who had recently come with her mother to join her brothers in the new settlement. Her mother, Mary, wife of George, died two years later. This is not a large cemetery, and the recent burials are few. All inscriptions that could be read have been copied.

Located 1.5 mile Northwest of the Intersection of Stumpf Road (T-180) and Lutz Road (C-503)

LEGEND

Name: The name on the stone, if given, otherwise, the name listed in the burial records.

Born: Date given on the stone or burial record.

Died: Date given on the stone or burial records. An entry as "no date" indicates that an engraved stone is in place but no record of a death or burial, and no death date appears on the stone.

Section: The location of the grave indicated by this number. The cemetery is not divided by cross roadways, however, a somewhat visible grass roadway is visible that divides the cemetery. A map is included herein to aid in the location of graves.

Code: A code number is assigned each name based on any of, or any combination of the following:

a) Buried on the same lot according to burial records

b) Physical inventory indicates they are in close proximity with connecting names.

c) Physical inventory indicates they are in the same location.

Note: All listed identical codes may or may not be confirmed as to a family connection.

Remarks: Information on stone or burial records. Codes as follows:

b	born
d	died
d	day(s) when with a number
d/o	daughter of
f/o	father of
m	month(s) when with a number
m/o	mother of
mar	married
m1	1st marriage
m2	2nd marriage, etc.
p/o	parents of
s/o	son of
y	year(s) when with a number

Military: Information listed on s tone and/or burial records. States may be abbreviated, i.e. Ohio = OH

Note: This is not a large cemetery and although there are lots available, it has not been active in the last few years. Even so, it has 439 known burials there at present.

NOTICE

CEMETERY

Before 1800, settlers were coming into this neighborhood along Zane's Trace, and almost from the beginning Tarlton was the nucleus of a settlement. The cemetery to the east side of the village was laid out early, and has been in continuous use to the present time. The oldest part, the old "burying ground", is the southwest corner of the present enclosure and is now labeled Section #1. Some of the markers in this old section have disappeared within the last 65 years; stones with legible inscriptions - part of them in German - that were in place in the 1890's are now entirely gone. Also gone are the little flat field stones that marked the graves of several children, some of them among the earliest burials.

The earliest death date found on the existing stones with legible inscriptions is 1608. That year Peter Spangler and George A. Drum, both old men, died. In June, 1813, David Hamilton was killed by a falling log when helping to build a barn on the farm of James McClelland. The first man to buy land in the township from the government, John Shoemaker, died in June 1814. His widow, Elizabeth, later married Dr. Otie Ballard, and is buried on the Ballard lot. More than a thousand stones are in this cemetery, and all legible inscriptions have been copied.

In the Tarlton Cemetery are buried at least eight men who were soldiers in the American Revolution: Robert Barnet, John Francis, Jacob Grim, Benjamin Kapner, Robert McClelland, John Mowery, Peter Spangler, and John Wood. Three others - John Brand, Samuel Guy, and Samuel Noble - are reputed to have served in the Revolution; and there are several others of that generation who may have had service. The wives of some of these men are also buried here. Buried near their husbands are: Margaret Barnet, Phoebe Francis, Elizabeth Mowery, and Abigail Wood. Deborah Grim, wife of Jacob, is buried in Imler Cemetery.

Salt Creek Township is in the southeastern corner of Pickaway County, Ohio. It is one of the six-mile square townships of the Congress Lands East of the Scioto, and on the maps of the Ohio Land Divisions it is Township Eleven, Range Twenty. Although included in Pickaway County, the township is in close proximity to parts of three other counties. To the north is Clear Creek Township of Fairfield County, to the east is Perry Township of Hocking County, and to the south Colerain Township of Ross County.

When the first road through Ohio was laid out in 1797 under Ebenezer Zane's direction, it passed through this township. Some years later Zane's Trace became the Zanesville and Maysville Turnpike, and was the route followed by stage coaches from Wheeling, Virginia, to Maysville, Kentucky. The village of Tarlton, in the northern part of Salt Creek Township, was one of the stage coach stops, and provided accommodations for travelers. It was a thriving village, as appears from its description printed in the Ohio Gazeteer in 1837:

"TARLTON, a post town, (post office with the same name) pleasantly situated, near the source of the North Fork of Scioto Salt Creek, in Salt Creek township, the southernmost township in Pickaway County. It contains one Methodist Episcopal meeting house, one German Lutheran and reformed meeting house, one English Presbyterian meeting house, five mercantile stores, three taverns, two tanneries, five boot and shoe makers shops, two blacksmith shops, three cabinet makers shops, four tailor shops, one cooper shop, one brick yard, one wagon maker shop, two saddler shops, two doctors of medicine, one school house, 53 dwelling houses, and about 300 inhabitants. Distance, 33 miles southeasterly from Columbus, 15 1/2 miles southwesterly from Lancaster, 13 1/2 miles northeasterly from Chillicothe, being on the direct stage road between the two last mentioned towns. The southwestern turnpike, now being surveyed, from Zanesville to Maysville, passes through this town. The United States mail passes through this place east and west, every day, carried in coaches; a mail also arrives from the south, twice a week".

LEGEND

Name: The name on the stone, if given, otherwise, the name listed in the burial records.

Born: Date given on the stone or burial record.

Died: Date given on the stone or burial records. An entry as "no date" indicates that an engraved stone is in place but no record of a death or burial, and no death date appears on the stone.

Section: The location of the grave indicated by this number. The cemetery is divided by cross roadways separating the cemetery into several different sections. This has been used as the numbering system for sections. For the purpose of this report, section numbers have been designated and a map provided. Township maps have no section numbers designated for the cemetery blocks as shown on the maps, but, have specified names and sometimes designated sections within the named areas. If a section number has not been assigned to any of the individuals in this report then it is most likely that a stone had not been found on this inventory but was in place on the 1940's inventory. Deterioration and/or vandalism has most likely destroyed the stone.

Code: A code number is assigned each name based on any of, or any combination of the following:

a) Buried on the same lot according to burial records

b) Physical inventory indicates they are in close proximity with connecting names.

c) Physical inventory indicates they are in the same location.

Note: All listed identical codes may or may not be confirmed as to a family connection.

Remarks: Information on stone or burial records. Codes as follows:

b	born
d	died
d	day(s) when with a number
d/o	daughter of
f/o	father of
m	month(s) when with a number
m/o	mother of
mar	married
m1	1st marriage
m2	2nd marriage, etc.
p/o	parents of
s/o	son of
y	year(s) when with a number

Military: Information listed on stone and/or burial records. States may be abbreviated, i.e. Ohio = OH

Note: This is active cemetery and presently continues to be accepting burials. Our current count is 1,975 burials.
